

Recognizing geometric shapes

A triangle has three sides and three vertices.

A square has four equal sides and four right angles.

A circle has no straight sides or vertices.

A regular pentagon has five equal sides.

The unlabeled diagram above shows a triangle.